TEXAS TWO-STEP

For the Good: Though only in its sixth year, Two by Two for AIDS and Art has become one of Dallas's premier black-tie events. Held in the art-filled, Richard Meier-designed home of collectors Cindy and Howard Rachofsky, it benefits two of the city's favorite charities: the Dallas Museum of Art and the American Foundation for AIDS Research (amFAR).

In the Crowd: The evening attracted heavy hitters: designer and amFAR vice chairman Kenneth Cole flew in from New York, and Jamie Niven, the vice chairman of Sotheby's, presided over an auction of art and such luxuries as a seven-night stay for six at Goldeneye, Ian Fleming's Jamaican villa.

On the Money: Every year the party sets new earnings records, this time bringing in $1.6 million. >64
