

SCENE

High Art

Art aficionados and scenesters dressed in their best black and headed to the Rachofsky House for the eighth annual TWO BY TWO FOR AIDS AND ART FIRST LOOK benefiting amfAR and the Dallas Museum of Art. Servers with painted black masks offered Moët and Chandon to such guests as Capera Ryan, Sam Saladino, Marty Walker, and Angie Barrett. As always, the art was the star of this show—heck, even the book of silent auction items is coffee table-worthy—with pieces from artists Scott Calhoun, Nobuyoshi Araki, and John Sparagana generating excitement among the many happy bidders. —J.C.
