TWO BY TWO GOES PLATINUM

Before Harry Winston opened in Highland Park Village, store director Rozalyn St. Pe Colombo made donations to some of the most prestigious causes in town. So when Two by Two for AIDS and Art' co-chairs Lizzie Routman and Susan Kaminski came calling, Roz offered up a $191,500 "Lace Timepiece" for the live auction. It doesn't hurt to be a platinum sponsor for one of the most exclusive events in town, held annually at the Richard Meier-designed art-museum home of Cindy and Howard Rachofsky. Natasha Richardson flew in to play honorary chair, and also there lending celeb clout were Kenneth Cole and actors Stanley Tucci and John Benjamin Hickey. A Tom Friedman sculpture and a trip to Fashion Week were auctioned to raise a cool $2.7 mill for amfAR and the Dallas Museum of Art. —JANIE DONOSKY CONDON
