TWO BY TWO BY TEN = ONE TREMENDOUS EVENING

"Here's a two-second hello and a kiss!" said a hurried Deborah Scott, holding on to husband John with one hand, and an auction catalog with the other. "We have some art to see!" She wasn't the only one rushing to the bid sheets on the 10th anniversary gala evening of Two by Two for AIDS and Art. From Luisa Lambri's Untitled (Melnikov House, #03), valued at $9,000, to Chuck Close's Sunflower, valued at $90,000, pencils were flying with Ana and Sherrill Pettus, Katherine Perot, Kim and Tony Horton, David Cadwallader, Margaret and Glenn Solomon, Lisa and Peter Kraus, Eve Reid and Warren Weitman, and Brant McFarlain swirling around their favorite pieces. Hosts Cindy and Howard Rachofsky opened their home and front lawn for the 10th year to entertain arts enthusiasts, New York gallerists, world-renowned artists and celebrities to add to the $17 million already raised for the contemporary art acquisition funds at the Dallas Museum of Art and for AIDS research programs supported by amfAR (American Foundation for AIDS Research). "The acquisitions to our collections have been extraordinary over the years," said DMA director Bonnie Pittman to the guests gathered for caviar, Dom and dinner, referring to approximately 60 pieces purchased through Two by Two resources. More than 400 art patrons were seated in an Oscar-worthy tent designed by Todd Fiscus and his Todd Events creative team, with bubbly from Moët Hennessy USA, dinner courtesy of Stephen Friedman, a world-premiere performance by dance group Pilobolus presented by The Jole, A Luxury Collection Hotel, and a live auction by Mandarin Oriental Hotel Group and Sotheby's. And if that wasn't enough panache, '80s maven Taylor Dayne belted out her Grammy-nominated hits for those late-nighters savoring the final sips of champagne in the Last Look lounge.

"Men, all exits will be blocked during the auction of the watch."

Memorable quotes from captivating Sotheby's auctioneer, Jamie Niven

"Don't let the guy from the Sotheby's contemporary art department buy this — it means he's stealing it!" — on the bidding for a painting between a dinner guest and a Sotheby's representative

"If you don't have Rusty Rose in your audience, then you are deeply fu-ke-d!" — on Mr. Rose's generous purchases of auction packages

"Under-bidders are by far the most important thing in my life, besides my children."

"One by one, we will follow Howard to the third floor, and we will slam some Hennessy and buy some art."
 — Stanley Tucci on the closing of the silent auction
